CONCORDIA
TEACHERS COLLEGE

Seward,

Nebraska

DEDICATION 1962-63

We, the students of Concordia Teachers College, proudly dedicate the 1963 TOWER to Professor Wilbert H. Rusch, Sr. Molding the students into future teachers, Professor Rusch has served the Concordia Faculty and students diligently, both in and out of the classroom. In answering the needs of Christ for the growth of His Kingdom, Professor Rusch chose to assume a new position on the faculty at the new Lutheran junior college in Ann Arbor, Michigan. The Christian examples given to the students by Professor Rusch, as well as his advice on the TOWER, will not soon be forgotten. With this dedication, we send to you, Professor Rusch, the richest of God's blessings in all future work in the ministry of Christ.

DARKNESS...

out of its void

comes

the glory of light

Since creation man has been conscious of darkness

nd light..night and day..sunset and sunrise

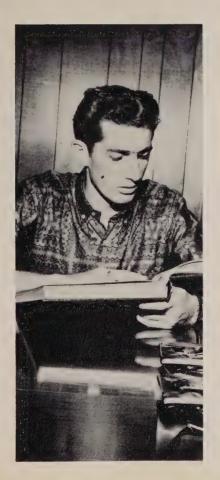

As the earth's face changes with the rising sun so does man's face change from the expressionless to the lighted countenance of joy, laughter, excitement, expectation, contemplation, and meditation ...LIGHT

All-Campus Worship

"Let us go into the House of the Lord"

Not only are students at Concordia given the opportunity for academic and social growth, but also of greater importance is the growth of the students' spiritual life. To this end, students are given countless opportunities for worship and meditation. Students are given frequent opportunities to participate in the Lord's Supper, in regular Sunday communion services, and in special communion vespers throughout the school term.

Worshipping in the House of the Lord is the focal point in the life of each student on the Concordia campus. To aid the student in this phase of his spiritual life, daily chapel services are held in addition to regular Sunday worship services.

Dormitory Worship

"Where two or three are gathered together in My Name, there am I in the midst of them."

The day ends with the Lord as the women in Ruth Hall and other women's dormitories....

the students in off-campus homes and their hostesses...

and the men in campus dormitories and a guest speaker unite in evening devotions.

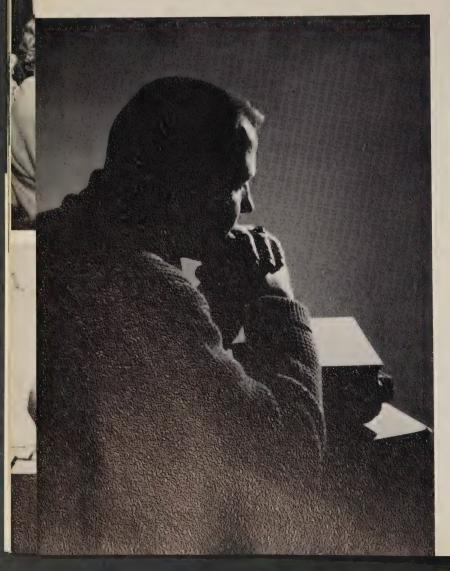

Students join in a memorial service for Rudy Gasau whom the Lord called to Himself during the summer of 1962.

The Open Book, the Cross, the silence, the evening air--Concordia's students meditate, reflect, worship their Lord together in such informal, outdoor situations. Many campus parties and activities also find their culmination in a period of meditation and praise to God.

Private Worship

"Take it to the Lord in prayer"

Students take time out to think, to meditate, and talk with God--to discover and renew the personal warmth and glow of the Light.

"Thy Word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path."

DAS SCHULFEST - Homecoming, 1962

The weekend of October 18-21 marked this year's annual homecoming at C.T.C. and was the occasion for "Das Schulfest." From the impressive coronation ceremony to the colorful parade, from the rugged football game in which the bulldogs were victorious to the fantasy depicted in "The Toy Shop" variety show, these and all the other activities made this a weekend of gaiety and festivity for alumni, students, and faculty alike-a weekend indeed to be remembered.

The coronation of Betty Polster as Queet and Marty Duchow as King marked the beginning of an exciting Homecoming Weekend, over which Queen Betty and King Marty reigned.

We give our appreciation to Chuck Brockmann as he initiated the official program for Das Schulfest as well as to Phil Stahmer and all who motivated the Deutsch theme.

CHUCK BROCKMANN, Chairman

An enthused sense of oneness is felt by the students and town folk as the parade of floats, college band, Volkswagen cars, cheerleaders, stepettes and color guard arrive at the town square.

Der Lutheranishe Schule float built by the cooperative working juniors emphasized the holiday mood, thereby winning 1st acclaim by the judges.

The Bulldogs were out to hold the Tigers, giving the gals in Strieter Dormitory 1st place for dorm exhibits.

At the stroke of 12, tradition has it that mysterious, delightful things begin to happen in toy shops. Our "Spielzeuggeschaeft" was no exception, for it formed the theme of the Homecoming Variety Show. Dancing elves, marching wooden soldiers, a story-telling "Little Red Hooding Ride," singing clowns and a lively Jack-in-the-box were a few of the toys who came to life to entertain the audience as a fitting-ending to an eventful Homecoming celebration.

Ballerina, Kathie Broockmann performed a graceful ballet to Grieg's, "Morning Mood."

 $\mbox{\sc Co-chairmen},\mbox{\sc Jim}$  Wollmann and Elaine Michael review final preparations for the variety show.

Dennis Godemann and Jay Musfeldt line up the parade participants in the half moon making ready for the march to the town square for the Pep Rally.

Bob Ahrens and Al Ebel are all smiles as they peddle their wares--Homecoming buttons and booklets.

Gwen Hanson, Linda Boehnke, and Roxie Suelflow were in charge of registering the  $200\,$  alumni who returned for the festivities.

The German tuba player, erected at the entrance of the half moon by the off-campus girls, sat before his "Schulfest" music throughout homecoming festivities sounding forth with the agenda of the weekend's activities to anyone who would lend him an ear.

Glenn Ohlmann, chairman of the coronation committee, makes sure that the throne is "just right" for the breathtaking and impressive coronation ceremony.

Graduates hear their joys, hopes, and dreams echoed in the speaker's message.

The confusion of greetings and congratulations break the solemnity of the graduation exercise.

Senior-we can hardly term you that;
More than merely this have you become.
Freshmen first you were, then sophomore,
Junior, senior, adding to the sum
Of a graduate and teacher now.
Where you go and what for Christ you do
Know that, all your life, in prayer and tho't
CTC's past light will shine in you.

"There went out a sower to sow..." Soon we, the graduates of 1963 will know the full meaning of these words. We will, in effect, be converting Concordia's symbol into reality. During our years on Concordia's campus we have had countless opportunities to have the seed of the Word implanted and nourished in our own hearts and minds. Now, in a very short matter of time, we will become fellow sowers of God's precious Word and will thus be involved in awakening and strengthening the spark of faith in the hearts.

The theme of this annual-Lightis well-chosen. Light stands in opposition todarkness, Light is closely associated with life. Light lifts up the soul; darkness subdues it. Light and warmth are often mentioned together; or light and joy; or light and peace. It is evident that light is something good, wholesome, and desirable. In our Christian faith Jesus and Light are virtually synonymous. He lights up the soul with His Cross-won forgiveness. On the foundation of His resurrection victory He leads the forgiven sinner to the light of heaven.

with His Cross-won forgiveness. On the foundation of His resurrection victory He leads the forgiven sinner to the light of heaven.

It would seem hard to find a better word to place upon the hearts of the members of this year's graduating class. Jesus used it in His Sermon on the Mount. What He said turned out to be one of the immortal sentences in history; "Ye are the Light of the World." These words also apply to modern disciples and ambassadors of Christ. What, a noble and high calling Christ's disciples and kingdom workers have. May the Lord use His chosen ones mightily to bring His Light into dark places and finally to brighten the halls of paradise with Lights that shine in the presence of God forevermore.

Effective administration is a necessary requisite for the efficient and continuous operation of any institution. The same holds true for Concordia College if it is to build and maintain high standards and excellent certification. Synod has selected the men who comprise the Board of Control for this purpose. These men, acting as a board, offer academic, financial, and religious aid to the school, thus facilitating Concordia in her efforts to prepare more and more young people as professional workers for the Church and the Nation. "Go ye into all the world"--through its contributions and special projects, Mission Society seeks to bring the light of the Gospel to all nations.

The activities of Concordia's Walther League, a-ffiliated with the International League, reflect its 5-point program--worship of the Savior through meditation and life; education to broaden knowledge of the Bible and the world; recreation to let off steam and channel energies; service to God by helping others; and fellowship woven throughout all these activities. An annual activity of the League is its sponsorship of talent festivals for elementary schools.

What if the practice field could talk? It would surely tell of many grueling hours of being trampled by the hard working Bulldogs.

Starenko readies to send in Dennis Oetting.

Bulldog speedster, Bob Voelker, sweeps left end gaining long yardage.

Bob Oetting-Little All-American Candidate. Bob, the Bulldogs' most aggressive lineman was selected to represent the Tri-State Conference in the Williamson's 1962 Little All-American Balanced Football Poll. Bob, being only a junior, was given honorable mention status for his solid defensive play as tackle.

Ed Richter-Most Valuable Player. Ed was chosen by his teammates as the Bulldogs' most valuable player because of his fine scoring punch and solid defensive play.

The Bulldogs' downfield blocking cuts down Midland defenders for Bob Voelker.

Fighting Spirit Keys Success

The Bulldogs' 5-1 league record brought Concordia the gridiron co-championship of the Tri-State Conference. The total '62 season saw the Bulldogs at the top end of a 7-2 mark. Teamwork proved to be the most important factor leading to the Bulldogs' success. In their league competition, the Bulldogs' ground defense was resolute and their offensive punch was powerful.

The championship Bulldogs were led by all-league selections Ted Richter, Andy Smith, Bill Jacobsson, Ed Richter, Bob Oetting, and Marty Duchow. The outstanding play combined with the fine performance of the all-leaguers and their teammates made the Bulldog grid machine operate at a superb rate.

The Bulldogs suffered only two setbacks during their fine season, one loss being to league rival Westmar College by 6-7. After their climactic league finish, a 14-0 victory over Midland, the Bulldogs traveled to Minnesota only to absorb their second loss at the hands of St. Cloud State 6-32.

The students of Concordia can well be proud of these men who toiled hard and long to win the co-championship for Concordia Teachers College. Co-captains, Marty Duchow and Ed Richter gave their teammates that needed inspiration to turn a close game into a climactic victory.

Varsity Basketball

The Bulldogs, going strong in spurts but faltering occasionally, finished their season amassing 15 wins while suffering 11 losses. In Tri-State action, the CTC courtmen held first place until losing twice to Yankton's championship five. The final record for the Bulldogs in Tri-State was 11-3, their best in conference play.

Buuck and Bredow dominate the boards.

Wayne Clements jumps up for a two pointer.

Bob Schulz moves in for a basket.

All-Conference center, Al Buuck, proved to be the mainstay in the Bulldogs offensive machinery, averaging 24 points per game. Giving added support to the Bulldog's scoring punch were Wayne Clements with a 14 point and Gordon Bredow with a 10 point average per game.

Under the boards it was Buuck and Bredow grabbing the rebounds with 14 and 10 rebound averages respectively.

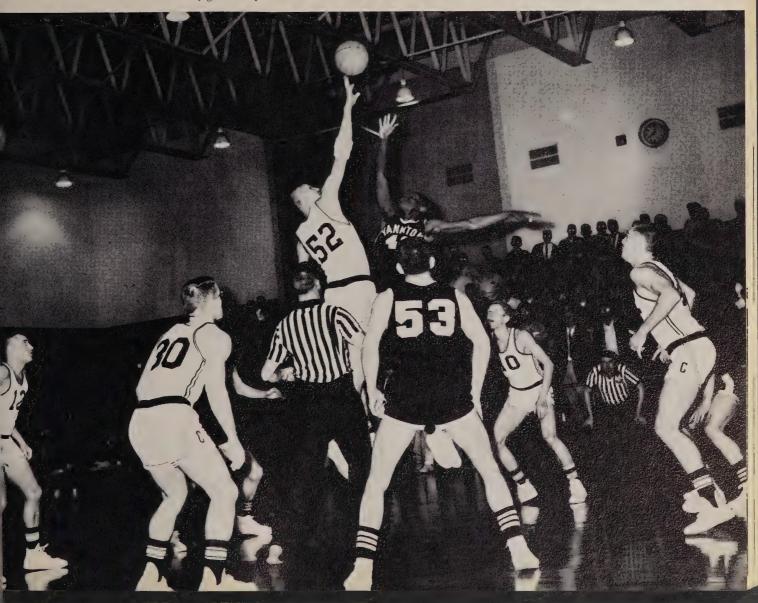

All-league recognition was gained by Buuck who was unanimously selected as the Tri-State's best center, and by Gordon Bredow who was placed on the second team in a forward slot.

Losing only Buuck by graduation, next year's Bulldogs will again be top contenders for Tri-State laurels.

Pete Frerking drives for an easy two.

Al Buuck easily gets the tip.

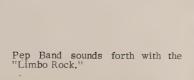

KNEELING: Bill Mueller, Mark Boerger, Jerry Markin, Coach Steinmiller. STANDING: Cliff Doll, Ted Henning, John Roeber, Jim Schubarth, Al Gunderman.

Junior Varsity Basketball

Concordia's ''Bombers,'' playing only ten games, showed good prospects as they won seven and lost three. Leading the team in scoring were Ted Henning and Cliff Doll. Experience was gained in all departments by most of the J.V's. The successful season can be attributed to teamwork.

Coeds receive words of encouragement from Miss Degner during a welcome time-out.

Concordia proudly takes her hat off to the COEDS! While unable to establish more than a 5-5 record in the Midwest AAU conference, the team, nevertheless, proved itself to be one of Concordia's best. The girls were a hardworking group and displayed excellent teamwork. Two seniors Florence Erdman and Dana Jorns we give special recognition. Both girls proved to be invaluable to the team, both in offensive and defensive play. Flo established a fine record herself, averaging over 20 points per game. Prospects for the future look very promising with most of the team members returning ports. with most of the team members returning next year. Concordia hopefully anticipates a topnotch team next year and gives the Coeds assurance that we are behind them all the way!

Sink it, Eunice!

LeBeau pinning another opponent

Wrestling

Jessen breaking down his man

In their first year of wrestling, the Bulldogs did not gain many team victories, but many individuals came into their own. Eddie LeBeau led the Bulldogs attack going undefeated in dual meet competition, pinning most of his opponents. Doug Borer, Ed Schade and Dennis Oetting were also big winners, beating many of their foes.

Coach Harms is looking forward to next year with all of his matmen returning. With their gained experience, the Bulldogs should fare quite well.

Swimming

Swimming for their first year as a team, Concordia's mermen proved to be able opponents for all their competitors. The tankers won two of their six meets, but took no less than second in their four triangular meets. The Kearney Invitational saw the Bulldogs on the short end of a 100-99 score.

The big point producers were Dave

Kreitzer, John Laue and Bill Allmen. Returning next year will be Dave Kreitzer to spear the tankers attack in his pet events-the 50 and 100 meter freestyle.

Cross Country, Track

The cross country team established another first as this was the first year of competition for the Bulldogs. Faced by the tough competitors in the Tri-State Conference, the Bulldogs were unable to emerge victorious. The Bulldogs, let by Marty Schramm and Ron Kamprath, will return to the cinders and hills next year, backed by experience and quality.

and Field Events

Under the direction of Coach Harms, the thin-clads, with plenty of depth, won several dual meets. With cold weather hampering early training, the Bulldog spikers were slow to start, but caught fire during the middle and later portion of the season.

TRACK TEAM KNEELING: Ron Kamprath, Bill Mueller, Wayne Gray, John Jacobsen, Jack Bartels, Noel Vetter, Ed Merz, Paul Grauer, Bob Schulze, Allen Mundt, Joe Micanek, Jerry Markin. STANDING: Darryl Goehring, Bob Werner, Backed by experienced courtmen, Coach Starenko directed the Bulldogs to many victories. The Bulldogs were formidable before their opponents. The team members are: Fred Schamber, Brian Dietrich, Ed Schroeder, Jim Manion, Dave Toensing, Coach Starenko.

Baseball

Backed by the nucleus of last year's team, Coach Stohs monitored the Bulldog "nine" to another successful season. The hitting of the Bulldogs proved to be their strongest asset, as they solidly connected for many base hits. The mound squad, weaker than last year, came through in many games.

Golf

Concordia's iron and wood swinging golf team met strong competition throughout their spring season. Coached by Ralph Starenko individuals again were the highlight of the competition.

Student Council's most important duty is to represent the student body. It is made up of class and dorm representatives who serve different committees. These include executive board, Spiritual Welfare, Activities, and Public Relations. All work together to serve the student body as best as they can. They try to promote better relationships between the faculty and students in and out of class. Projects for this year included getting needed materials for a mission church in Omaha. The Student Council works under the supervision and guidance of Reverend Graudin, sponsor.

CONCORDIA HI-LINES is the official name of the school paper. It has a three-fold purpose: to inform, entertain, and to give the readers topics to think about in its editorials. Several changes were made this year. Subscriptions were offered to parents, and the newly printed edition was enlarged. The best addition was entering pictures, which have never before been used. The staff has proved well-qualified to reach its goals and put out a good paper.

Library Staff plays an important part in the maintenance of the library as the members assist their sponsor, Mr. Getz, with his various duties as librarian. In this way the members learn more about the library's functions and administration while they promote interest in the library and its many books. Members were: FIRST ROW: Sally Hoerauf, Carol Hohbein. SECOND ROW: Bev Weeks, Esther Rosenthal, Rachel Frese, and Bev Rolf; Elaine Grundman (not shown).

Officers this year included Marge Haar, Editor; Mr. Klammer, sponsor; Eileen Janssen, Secretary; and Denie Hancock, Assistant Editor (not pictured).

Concordia drama enthusiasts enjoy themselves in an organization known as Harlequins. Each year they put on two plays. Their first play was a dramatic production entitled "Shadow of Suspicion," the other a comedy. Cast and crew enjoy presenting these plays and have fun at the parties, sponsored by Mr. Bachelor.

Chorus is an organization of singers led by Doctor Fred Telschow. It aims to make a significant contribution to worship. It enhances the members' concepts of worship and their knowledge of a choir's function in worship. The group, during the course of the year, gives two home concerts, goes on two day tours, and takes a week-long tour in the spring. Members have the opportunity to improve themselves both vocally and musically.

The purpose of the Pep Club and C Club is to promote school spirit. The team is supported by the Pep Club at games, pep rallys, meetings, send-offs, and through publicity and decorations. The C Club supplies recognition for lettermen and sells refreshments during games. This year the Pep Club appeared in new uniforms consisting of navy blue skirts and letter sweaters. Both organizations are behind the team in victory or defeat.

Our Gridiron Raiders

The Concordia Raiders' 1962 football season was heavily marked with a losing streak. The lack of experience and injuries plagued the team from the opening of the season. Rod Kumm was unable to play the first game because of a slight concussion, while Dave Mommens broke his leg in the second game.

But the team had high hopes early in the season with eleven returning lettermen. The team won the first game but fell into a losing streak. Silas Pera, Fred Janzow, and Keith Wingfield all were great players offensively and defensively.

Coach Skov and his fighting blue are looking forward to next year with most of the players returning with more experience.

This year for the first time the high school and college did not have a joint Homecoming. Instead, high school had All Sports Festivities the weekend of October 11. The celebration began Thursday evening with a snake dance led by the cheerleaders, ending at the old gym. Everyone anxiously awaited the announcement of the king and queen. As the names were read, two faces lit up. After the coronation all hurried to the bonfire. There the Pep Club gave a skit, and everyone assured the team that they were not alone in their fight. Friday was the game, where the entire student body showed its pep and school spirit, and the reception. After the entertain-ment refreshments were served. As the evening came to an end, there were struggles to get souvenirs, and everyone happily walked back to the dorms to dream of footballs, crowns, and bouquets.

Team members work hard to perfect wrestling's many skills.

Rough'n Tough Raiders

The Concordia High wrestling team met tough opposition after winning their first match with the Nebraska School for the Blind. Lack of experience was the main reason for the losses, with only two returning lettermen from last year, Fred Janzow and Art Gundell. The wrestling prospects for the next two years are very good, as many underclassmen are out for the sport.

Sports for Fun

A favorite weekend pastime of students was taking part in intramurals. Teams of both boys and girls and a playing schedule were set up. Games were played in a spirit of good-natured rivalry, and everyone got a chance to "work off steam."

Achievement earns a pride that is justifiable, particularly when such achievement helps and pleases others. The 675,000 members of Aid Association for Lutherans wish to acknowledge your accomplishments on this memorable occasion. They send their best wishes for your continued success. • These AAL members know about achievement, too, and they enjoy a pride that is equally justifiable. Their society, which has served Lutheran families for 60 years by providing them with financial peace-of-mind, is America's largest fraternal life insurance society and ranks among the top three percent of all life insurance organizations. • You will find AAL members most anxious to share this success with you... by modestly boasting of the Special Difference-LOWER NET COST-which they enjoy with AAL.

Acknowledgements and Appreciations

Out of darkness into light. This theme has truly been an inspirational one to work with as viewed by our efforts in this book as well as working with the staff.

THE TOWER is produced by the CTC and CHS annual staff students. It is published by Walsworth Publishing Company, Marceline, Missouri. Senior portraits were taken by Samples Studio, Seward, Nebraska. National School Studio, Inc. took the I.D. pictures. All other pictures were taken, developed, and printed by the photo staffs.

Appreciation is extended to Prof. Wilbert H. Rusch, Sr., adviser for the college staff, and to Mr. Werner Klammer, adviser for the high school staff, for their consultative assistance; and to Mr. Leonard Schlueter for managing the business affairs.

To all the staff members, I extend my personal gratitude for your cooperation, zeal, and a job well done. Thanks are also rendered to those not on the staff who so willingly volunteered their services.

My special thanks to Sarah Brackman, Assistant Editor, who earnestly gave her assistance whenever called upon.

 $\,$  My sincere wishes to the 1963-'64 TOWER Staff and to the new college staff adviser, Mr. W. Scheiderer.
